Can Do It Again do it again?

July warm-up for Snaitth's charge

ANDREW HARRISON

JUSTIN SNAITH has eleven runners entered for the Hollywoodbets Durban July and the more runners that he can get into the race gives the opposition less chance of winning. It's a smart strategy with the ammunition at his disposal with a mixture of young and old to work his plan.

Three-year-olds Double Superlative and Pomp And Power warmed up their engines in last Saturday's WSB Guineas with the former putting in an eye-catching performance and who may be worth an early ante-post tickle with the July sponsors.

It's the old guard that do duty in the World Sports Betting 1900 at Hollywoodbets Greyville today headed by veteran Do It Again who will be out to add a third July win to his CV.

His last success came at almost the exactly same day last year when winning a Pinnacle Stakes event.

Kommetdieding

He was then a touch unlucky not to have finished closer to Kommetdieding in the July after starting from a wide gate and being checked a furlong out.

His form since then has been exceptional at the top level without winning.

Most recently he was finishing off his race nicely in the Cape Met but that was three months back. Although he ticks all the boxes for today's race, the lay-off is of some concern but he is the best weighted runner so can go all out to win without getting punished by the handicapper ahead of the July.

Stable companion Crown Towers has been rested but runs well fresh and loves Greyville.

He is a strong front runner so should have it all his own way from gate two.

Sean Tarry, who has the smart filly Rain In Holland entered for the July, also has Litigation pencilled in and the three-year-old is progressive with solid Highveld form.

Victory here will book him a spot in the July regardless of what follows.

Duncan Howells has taken it race-by-race with Origami who has had a host of niggles but he comes off a good second in in a Listed feature and improves with every run.

Mount Anderson

Mount Anderson, ahead of Origami when last they met, Gainsford and Shampompo Shampezi are others that could make the frame.

Supporting feature is the KRA East Coast Cup (Listed), a nightmare of a race with most in with winning chances and luck in running could play the biggest role.

This looks to be a 'field' race in the exotics. Gareth van Zyl sends out She's A Keeper who has run against the best and not been far behind of late. She is the obvious stand-out.

She had the worst of the draw in the recent Empress Club Stakes but is well in at these weights and can get back to winning ways.

Opera Glass comes with solid Highveld form, two lengths off the smart Rain In Holland last time out and she will have her supporters.

Keep On Dancing does seem to prefer Hollywoodbets Scottsville but she looks fairly well weighted here and was only two lengths back to Lyrical Dance last start and is now 1.5kg better off in the weights. Twicethequality is never far back and looks handily weighted while Jacqueline was finishing like a train behind Lyrical Dance last time out and can turn the tables although they meet on the same terms, both from deep draws.

A Pinnacle Stakes sprint is the last leg of the Pick 6 on a 10-race programme and for many it will be a warm-up for the Gr1 Golden Horse Sprint.

Last year's Golden Horse

Trainer Justin Snaitth runs DO IT AGAIN in the WORLD SPORTS BETTING 1900 (Grade 2) at Hollywoodbets Greyville today. Anton Marcus will be in the irons.

winner Battle Force has his first outing for his new stable and is well weighted. If anywhere near ready he should go close.

Tempting Fate looks the pick of the Dennis Drier pairing and has his third start since a break.

He has improved in blinkers and should at least make an impression. Al Skeet has not been out since December but is lightly raced and gets first time blinkers.

Coin Spinner

Coin Spinner is held in high regard by his stable and even though he gets 1kg over weight for the services of top rider Keagan de Melo it must be some indication of his chances.

In the opening leg of the Pick 6, Highveld raider Floreana has been close-up in two workrider races but that form could still prove stronger than local where a number of the fancied runners have finished on top of each other in recent races.

Ndaka has disappointed on more than one occasion but goes well over this trip and now gets a 4kg claimer up which could see him home.

However, both

Slurricane and King's Spear finished ahead last time although there was less than a length between the three.

Debutante Stevie Gee may be worth following in the market.

The fifth is a tricky maiden. Forward Spell was showing signs of coming to hand on the Highveld and has shown that he stays the trip.

He has the best of the draw which could see him home.

Quick Response has been making steady progress. He does have a wide draw but appears to be coming to hand and is back on the turf.

Ravens Sword made no show in the soft after a close-up second at his previous start on the poly.

No rain predicted so one can possibly ignore that last run.

The eighth is another tough race but Artic Tune has been close-up to stronger at recent outings and with a stronger rider aboard should go well.

Super Silver

Super Silver stays well and was not disgraced in a smart Highveld field last time out while Hinckley made no show first up on the poly but does seem progressive and the stable is in good form of late.
