This question paper consists of 23 pages.

INSTRUCTIONS AND INFORMATION

1. Read this page carefully before you begin to answer the questions.
2. Do not attempt to read the entire question paper. Consult the table of contents on the next page and mark the numbers of the questions set on texts you have studied this year. Thereafter, read these questions and choose the ones you wish to answer.
3. This question paper consists of THREE sections:

SECTION A: Poetry (30 marks)
SECTION B: Novel (25 marks)
SECTION C: Drama (25 marks)
4. Follow the instructions at the beginning of each section carefully.
5. Answer FIVE QUESTIONS in all: THREE in SECTION A, ONE in SECTION B and ONE in SECTION C as follows:

SECTION A: POETRY
PRESCRIBED POETRY – Answer TWO questions.
UNSEEN POETRY – Answer ONE question.

SECTION B: NOVEL
Answer ONE question.

SECTION C: DRAMA
Answer ONE question.
6. Number the answers correctly according to the numbering system used in this question paper.
7. Start EACH section on a NEW page.
8. Suggested time management:

SECTION A: approximately 40 minutes
SECTION B: approximately 55 minutes
SECTION C: approximately 55 minutes
9. LENGTH OF ANSWERS:
  - Essay questions on Poetry should be answered in about 250–300 words.
  - Essay questions on the Novel and Drama should be answered in 400–450 words.
  - The length of answers to contextual questions should be determined by the mark allocation. Candidates should aim for conciseness and relevance.

10. CHOICE OF ANSWERS FOR SECTIONS B (NOVEL) AND C (DRAMA):

- Answer ONLY questions on the novel and the drama you have studied.
- Answer ONE ESSAY QUESTION and ONE CONTEXTUAL QUESTION. If you answer the essay question in SECTION B, you must answer the contextual question in SECTION C. If you answer the contextual question in SECTION B, you must answer the essay question in SECTION C.

Use the checklist to assist you.

11. Write neatly and legibly.

SECTION A: POETRY*PRESCRIBED POETRY

Answer any TWO of the following questions.

QUESTION 1: POETRY – ESSAY QUESTION

TO A SMALL BOY WHO DIED AT DIEPKLOOF REFORMATORY
– Alan Paton

Small offender, small innocent child With no conception or comprehension Of the vast machinery set in motion By your trivial transgression, Of the great forces of authority,	5
Of judges, magistrates, and lawyers, Psychologists, psychiatrists, and doctors, Principals, police, and sociologists, Kept moving and alive by your delinquency, This day, and under the shining sun Do I commit your body to the earth Oh child, oh lost and lonely one.	10
Clerks are moved to action by your dying; Your documents, all neatly put together, Are transferred from the living to the dead, Here is the document of birth Saying that you were born and where and when, But giving no hint of joy or sorrow, Or if the sun shone, or if the rain was falling, Or what bird flew singing over the roof Where your mother travailed. And here your name Meaning in white man's tongue, he is arrived, But to what end or purpose is not said.	15
Here is the last certificate of Death; Forestalling authority he sets you free, You that did once arrive have now departed And are enfolded in the sole embrace Of kindness that earth ever gave to you. So negligent in life, in death belatedly She pours her generous abundance on you And rains her bounty on the quivering wood And swaddles you about, where neither hail nor tempest, Neither wind nor snow nor any heat of sun Shall now offend you, and the thin cold spears Of the highveld rain that once so pierced you In falling on your grave shall press you closer To the deep repentant heart.	20 25 30 35

Here is the warrant of committal, For this offence, oh small and lonely one, For this offence in whose commission Millions of men are in complicity You are committed. So do I commit you, Your frail body to the waiting ground, Your dust to the dust of the veld, - Fly home-bound soul to the great Judge-President Who unencumbered by the pressing need To give society protection, may pass on you The sentence of the indeterminate compassion.	40       45
---	----------------------------------

This poem can be seen as an argument or appeal for society to be more tolerant and understanding of juvenile offenders.

By carefully examining the ideas, diction and imagery in the poem, discuss the extent to which you agree with the above view. Your essay must be 250–300 words (about ONE page) in length.

QUESTION 2: POETRY – CONTEXTUAL QUESTION*LAKE MORNING IN AUTUMN – Douglas Livingstone

Before sunrise the stork was there resting the pillow of his body on stick legs growing from the water.

A flickering gust of pencil-slanted rain swept over the chill autumn morning;
and he, too tired to arrange 5

his wind-buffed plumage, perched swaying a little neck flattened, ruminative, beak on chest, contemplative eye 10
filmy with star vistas and hollow black migratory leagues, strangely, ponderously alone and some weeks early. The dawn struck and everything sky, water, bird, reeds 15

was blood and gold. He sighed.
Stretching his wings he clubbed
the air; slowly, regally, so very tired, aiming his beak he carefully climbed inclining to his invisible tunnel of sky, his feet trailing a long, long time. 20

- 2.1 Suggest why the speaker uses the words 'his' and 'he' to refer to the stork. (2)
- 2.2 Study lines 6–10: 'he, too tired ... beak on chest'.
Discuss how the diction used in these lines contributes to your understanding of the stork's condition. (3)
- 2.3 What does the phrase, 'his invisible tunnel of sky' (line 20), suggest about the stork? (2)
- 2.4 From your understanding of the poem as a whole, comment on the appropriateness of the metaphor, 'pillow of his body' (line 2). (3)

QUESTION 4: POETRY – CONTEXTUAL QUESTION*LONDON – William Blake

I wander thro' each charter'd street,
Near where the charter'd Thames does flow,
And mark in every face I meet
Marks of weakness, marks of woe.

In every cry of every Man, 5
In every Infant's cry of fear,
In every voice, in every ban,
The mind-forg'd manacles I hear.

How the Chimney-sweeper's cry 10
Every black'ning Church appalls;
And the hapless Soldier's sigh
Runs in blood down Palace walls.

But most thro' midnight streets I hear
How the youthful Harlot's curse 15
Blasts the new-born Infant's tear,
And blights with plagues the Marriage hearse.

- 4.1 Describe London as presented in this poem. (2)
- 4.2 Explain how the metaphor, 'mind-forg'd manacles' (line 8), contributes to your understanding of the poem as a whole. (3)
- 4.3 'Every black'ning Church appalls' (line 10).
Comment on the use of the adjective 'black'ning' in this line. (2)
- 4.4 In your view, does this poem deal with a universal theme? Justify your opinion. (3)

UNSEEN POETRY: POETRY FROM AFRICA

Read the following poem and answer EITHER QUESTION 5 (essay question) OR QUESTION 6 (contextual question).

OLD AGE – Modikwe Dikobe

You're like a thief
Stalking beside me
Throughout my life
Sticking to me like glucose
Now you're holding me captive                      5

You're sometimes merciless
Laying me sick abed
Advancing me in age
By gnawing at me.

Is Death your brother?                                      10
Bequeathed your legacy
With its formidable claws
Snatch a morsel
Out of your mouth.

QUESTION 5: UNSEEN POETRY – ESSAY QUESTION

This poem has a powerful message to convey about old age.

By carefully studying diction and imagery, critically discuss the statement above in an essay of 250–300 words (about ONE page) in length. [10]

OR

QUESTION 6: UNSEEN POETRY – CONTEXTUAL QUESTION

- 6.1 Discuss the speaker's attitude towards old age and death as expressed in the poem. (2)
- 6.2 Refer to stanza 2: 'You're sometimes ... gnawing at me'.
Discuss how the diction used in this stanza contributes to the image created of old age. (3)
- 6.3 Refer to line 10: 'Is Death your brother?'
Explain the point the speaker makes in this rhetorical question. (2)
- 6.4 'Bequeathed your legacy ... out of your mouth' (lines 11–14).
Discuss the effectiveness of the imagery employed in these lines. (3)

ANIMAL FARM – George Orwell

Answer EITHER QUESTION 7 (essay question) OR QUESTION 8 (contextual question).

QUESTION 7: ANIMAL FARM – ESSAY QUESTION

The animals' visions of an ideal state are shattered by the conditions they experience under Napoleon's leadership.

Discuss the validity of this statement in a well-substantiated essay of 400–450 words (2–2½ pages).

[25]*OR*QUESTION 8: ANIMAL FARM – CONTEXTUAL QUESTION

Read the extracts below and then answer the questions that follow.

EXTRACT A

All through that summer the work of the farm went like clockwork. The animals were happy as they had never conceived it possible to be. Every mouthful of food was an acute positive pleasure, now that it was truly their own food, produced by themselves and for themselves, not doled out to them by a grudging master. With the worthless parasitical human beings gone, there was more for everyone to eat. There was more leisure, too, inexperienced though the animals were. They met with many difficulties – for instance, later in the year, when they harvested the corn, they had to tread it out in the ancient style and blow away the chaff with their breath, since the farm possessed no threshing machine – but the pigs with their cleverness and Boxer with his tremendous muscles always pulled them through. Boxer was the admiration of everybody. He had been a hard worker even in Jones's time, but now he seemed more like three horses than one; there were days when the entire work of the farm seemed to rest upon his mighty shoulders. From morning to night he was pushing and pulling, always at the spot where the work was hardest.

5

[Chapter 3]

- 8.1 Describe what has led to the situation described in the extract above. (2)
- 8.2 Discuss how life is different for the animals on Animal Farm now, as opposed to when Jones was in charge. (2)
- 8.3 What comment is the writer making about society through the pigs' management of Animal Farm? (3)
- 8.4 Discuss the irony of Boxer's commitment to Animal Farm. (3)

AND

EXTRACT B

A few days later, when the terror caused by the executions had died down, some of the animals remembered – or thought they remembered – that the Sixth Commandment decreed: 'No animal shall kill any other animal.' And though no one cared to mention it in the hearing of the pigs or the dogs, it was felt that the killings which had taken place did not square with this. Clover asked Benjamin to read her the Sixth Commandment, and when Benjamin, as usual, said that he refused to meddle in such matters, she fetched Muriel. Muriel read the Commandment for her. It ran: 'No animal shall kill any other animal without cause.' Somehow or other, the last two words had slipped out of the animals' memory. But they saw now that the commandment had not been violated; for clearly there was good reason for killing the traitors who had leagued themselves with Snowball. 5 10

Throughout that year the animals worked even harder than they had worked in the previous year. To rebuild the windmill, with walls twice as thick as before, and to finish it by the appointed date, together with the regular work of the farm, was a tremendous labour. There were times when it seemed to the animals that they worked longer hours and fed no better than they had done in Jones's day. 15

[Chapter 8]

- 8.5 Comment critically on the inclusion of Benjamin in this novel. (3)
- 8.6 Discuss to what extent the animals themselves are responsible for the loss of the ideals of Animalism. (3)
- 8.7 Refer to lines 9–11: 'But they saw ... themselves with Snowball'.
In your view, are the animals justified in treating those who supported Snowball as traitors? Motivate your response. (2)
- 8.8 Discuss the importance of the windmill as a symbol in Animal Farm. (3)
- 8.9 The ending of the novel may be interpreted as a comment on revolutions and revolutionaries. Do you agree? Justify your response. (4)

PRIDE AND PREJUDICE – Jane Austen

Answer EITHER QUESTION 9 (essay question) OR QUESTION 10 (contextual question).

QUESTION 9: PRIDE AND PREJUDICE – ESSAY QUESTION

By means of this novel, the author seeks to educate her readers about the evils of both pride and prejudice.

With close reference to the novel, discuss the validity of this statement in an essay of 400–450 words (2–2½ pages).

[25]*OR*QUESTION 10: PRIDE AND PREJUDICE – CONTEXTUAL QUESTION

Read the extracts below and then answer the questions that follow.

EXTRACT A

He made no answer, and they were again silent till they had gone down the dance, when he asked her if she and her sisters did not very often walk to Meryton? She answered in the affirmative; and, unable to resist the temptation, added, 'When you met us there the other day, we had just been forming a new acquaintance.'

The effect was immediate. A deeper shade of hauteur overspread his features, but he said not a word, and Elizabeth, though blaming herself for her own weaknesses, could not go on. At length Darcy spoke, and in a constrained manner said, 'Mr Wickham is blessed with such happy manners as may ensure his making friends – whether he may be equally capable of retaining them is less certain.'

'He has been so unlucky as to lose your friendship,' replied Elizabeth with emphasis, 'and in a manner which he is likely to suffer from all his life.'

10

Darcy made no answer, and seemed desirous of changing the subject. At that moment Sir William Lucas appeared close to them, meaning to pass through the set to the other side of the room; but on perceiving Mr Darcy, he stopped with a bow of superior courtesy to compliment him on his dancing and his partner.

15

'I have been most highly gratified indeed, my dear sir. Such very superior dancing is not often seen. It is evident that you belong to the first circles ...'

[Chapter 18]

10.1 Place this extract in context. (2)

10.2 Refer to line 5: 'A deeper shade of hauteur overspread his features'.

Account for Darcy's reaction. (2)

- 10.3 Refer to lines 3–4: 'and, unable to resist ... a new acquaintance'.
By close examination of the diction, discuss what the narrator implies about Elizabeth. (3)
- 10.4 Refer to lines 7–9: 'Mr Wickham is blessed ... is less certain'.
Discuss the extent to which Darcy's words prove to be prophetic. (3)
- 10.5 Refer to lines 10–12: 'He has been ... changing the subject'.
Critically discuss the difference between Darcy's reaction to the mention of Wickham in these lines and Wickham's typical way of speaking about Darcy. (3)
- 10.6 Refer to lines 14–17: 'but on perceiving ... the first circles'.
Comment on Sir William's words as an example of Jane Austen's satirical treatment of social class in early nineteenth century England. (3)

AND*EXTRACT B

'Well, girls,' said she, as soon as they were left to themselves, 'what say you to the day? I think everything has passed off uncommonly well, I assure you. The dinner was as well dressed as any I ever saw. The venison was roasted to a turn – and everybody said, they never saw so fat a haunch. The soup was fifty times better than what we had at the Lucases' last week; and even Mr Darcy acknowledged that the partridges were remarkably well done; and I suppose he has two or three French cooks at least. And, my dear Jane, I never saw you look in greater beauty. Mrs Long said so too, for I asked her whether you did not. And what do you think she said besides? 'Ah! Mrs Bennet, we shall have her at Netherfield at last.' She did indeed. I do think Mrs Long is as good a creature as ever lived – and her nieces are very pretty behaved girls, and not at all handsome: I like them prodigiously.'

[Chapter 54]

- 10.7 Refer to lines 5–6: 'even Mr Darcy ... cooks at least'.
Explain the significance of Mrs Bennet's words in the context of the novel. (3)
- 10.8 Refer to line 9: 'Ah! Mrs Bennet, we shall have her at Netherfield at last'.
Explain what Mrs Long is suggesting in this sentence. (2)
- 10.9 Discuss the extent to which Extract B throws light on the nature and purpose of rivalry between women in the society about which Jane Austen writes. (4)

THE GREAT GATSBY – F Scott Fitzgerald

Answer EITHER QUESTION 11 (essay question) OR QUESTION 12 (contextual question).

QUESTION 11: THE GREAT GATSBY – ESSAY QUESTION

In The Great Gatsby, the reader sees through Gatsby's illusions, identifies with his aspirations and even loves him for having made the effort.

In an essay of 400–450 words (2–2½ pages), discuss the extent to which you agree with the statement above.

[25]*OR*QUESTION 12: THE GREAT GATSBY – CONTEXTUAL QUESTION*EXTRACT A

The only completely stationary object in the room was an enormous couch on which two young women were buoyed up as though upon an anchored balloon. They were both in white, and their dresses were rippling and fluttering as if they had just been blown back in after a short flight around the house. I must have stood for a few moments listening to the whip and snap of the curtains and the groan of a picture on the wall. Then there was a boom as Tom Buchanan shut the rear windows and the caught wind died out about the room, and the curtains and the rugs and the two young women ballooned slowly to the floor. 5

The younger of the two was a stranger to me. She was extended full length at her end of the divan, completely motionless, and with her chin raised a little, as if she were balancing something on it which was quite likely to fall. If she saw me out of the corner of her eyes she gave no hint of it – indeed, I was almost surprised into murmuring an apology for having disturbed her by coming in. 10

The other girl, Daisy, made an attempt to rise – she leaned slightly forward with a conscientious expression – then she laughed, an absurd, charming little laugh, and I laughed too and came forward into the room. 15

[Chapter 1]

- 12.1 Place this extract in context. (2)
- 12.2 Explain why it is ironic that both of the young women are dressed in white (line 3). (3)
- 12.3 Refer to lines 4–6: 'I must have ... on the wall'.
Discuss how the diction in these lines reveals the underlying menace in the society inhabited by Daisy and Tom. (3)

- 12.4 Carefully examine lines 6–7: 'Then there was ... about the room'.
How does the imagery used to describe Tom's actions in these lines prepare the reader for the effect he has on Gatsby's dream later in the novel? (3)
- 12.5 Account for Jordan's appearance and behaviour as Nick describes it in lines 10–13 ('She was extended ... hint of it'). (2)
- 12.6 Refer to lines 13–14: 'I was almost ... by coming in'.
Do you think that Nick's reaction is significant in the context of the role he plays in the novel as a whole? Justify your opinion. (3)

AND*EXTRACT B

... Then I heard footsteps on a stairs, and in a moment the thickish figure of a woman blocked out the light from the office door. She was in the middle thirties, and faintly stout, but she carried her flesh sensuously as some women can. Her face, above a spotted dress of dark blue crepe-de-chine, contained no facet or gleam of beauty, but there was an immediately perceptible vitality about her as if the nerves of her body were continually smouldering. She smiled slowly and, walking through her husband as if he were a ghost, shook hands with Tom, looking him flush in the eye. Then she wet her lips, and without turning around spoke to her husband in a soft, coarse voice: 5

'Get some chairs, why don't you, so somebody can sit down.'

'Oh, sure,' agreed Wilson hurriedly, and went toward the little office, mingling immediately with the cement colour of the walls. A white ashen dust veiled his dark suit and his pale hair as it veiled everything in the vicinity – except his wife, who moved close to Tom. 10

[Chapter 2]

- 12.7 Compare the impressions given of Daisy in Extract A and Myrtle in Extract B. (3)
- 12.8 Refer to lines 11–12: 'A white ashen ... close to Tom'.
Suggest a reason why Myrtle Wilson is the only person not covered in the white ashen dust which covers everything in the Valley of Ashes. (2)
- 12.9 By referring to the novel as a whole, comment critically on Fitzgerald's portrayal of women in the novel. (4)

IAGO

Hold, ho! Lieutenant! Sir Montano ... Gentlemen!
Have you forgot all sense of place and duty?
Hold! The General speaks to you. Hold, hold for shame!

OTHELLO

Why, how now, ho! From whence arises this?
Are we turned Turks and to ourselves do that 5
Which heaven hath forbid the Ottomites?
For Christian shame, put by this barbarous brawl.

He that stirs next to carve for his own rage
Holds his soul light—he dies upon his motion. 10
Silence that dreadful bell. It frights the isle
From her propriety. What is the matter, masters?
Honest Iago, that looks dead with grieving,
Speak, who began this. On thy love I charge thee.

IAGO

I do not know. Friends all but now, even now,
In quarter and in terms like bride and groom 15
Devesting them for bed—and then but now,
As if some planet had unwitting men,
Swords out and tilting one at other's breasts
In opposition bloody. I cannot speak
Any beginning to this peevish odds, 20
And would in action glorious I had lost
These legs that brought me to a part of it.

[Act 2 Scene 3]

- 14.1 Explain why it is significant that Othello makes reference to the Turks in lines 5–6. (3)
- 14.2 Explain how 'this barbarous brawl' (line 7) fits into Iago's plan for revenge. (3)
- 14.3 Refer to lines 1–3: 'Hold, ho! Lieutenant! ... hold for shame!'
Explain the irony in these lines. (3)
- 14.4 Refer to Othello's speech in lines 4–13: 'Why, how now ... I charge thee'.
Comment on how the Othello revealed in these lines differs from the Othello we meet later in the play. (3)

Some busy and insinuating rogue,
Some cogging, cozening slave, to get some office,
Have not devised this slander—I'll be hanged else.

IAGO

MERCY	It's weirdish, I know not – she seems to walk like a dead one since last night.
ABIGAIL	( turns at once and goes to Betty, and now, with fear in her voice ): Betty? ( Betty doesn't move. She shakes her. ) Now stop this! Betty! Sit up now! Betty doesn't stir. Mercy comes over.	25
MERCY	Have you tried beatin' her? I gave Ruth a good one and it waked her for a minute. Here, let me have her.
ABIGAIL	( holding Mercy back ): No, he'll be comin' up. Listen, now; if they be questioning us, tell them we danced – I told him as much already.	30

[Act 1]

AND*EXTRACT B

DANFORTH	( reaches out and holds her face, then ): Look at me! To your own knowledge, has John Proctor ever committed the crime of lechery? ( In a crisis of indecision she cannot speak. ) Answer my question! Is your husband a lecher!
ELIZABETH	( faintly ): No, sir.	5
DANFORTH	Remove her, Marshal.
PROCTOR	Elizabeth, tell the truth!
DANFORTH	She has spoken. Remove her!
PROCTOR	( crying out ): Elizabeth, I have confessed it!
ELIZABETH	Oh, God! ( The door closes behind her. )	10
PROCTOR	She only thought to save my name!
HALE	Excellency, it is a natural lie to tell; I beg you, stop now before another is condemned! I may shut my conscience to it no more – private vengeance is working through this testimony! From the beginning this man has struck me true. By my oath to Heaven, I believe him now, and I pray you call back his wife before we –	15
DANFORTH	She spoke nothing of lechery, and this man has lied!
HALE	I believe him! ( Pointing at Abigail. ) This girl has always struck me false! She has – ABIGAIL, with a weird, wild, chilling cry, screams up to the ceiling.	20
	[Act 3]
