SECTION A: COMPREHENSIONQUESTION 1

Read the passage below and answer the set questions.

THERE'S A HIPPO ON MY STOEP!

- | | | |
|---|---|----|
| 1 | Meet Jessica. She likes her coffee sweet, has nine bull terrier dogs as her friends and sleeps under a pink blanket on a mattress on the stoep. She also happens to be a hippo. | |
| 2 | As a newborn, she was washed up on the banks of the Selati River in Hoedspruit during the 2000 floods. She was rescued by former game ranger, Tonie Joubert, who lives beside the river. He says he first thought Jessica was a pig because she was pink, except she had a very wide mouth. She still had her umbilical cord attached and weighed 16 kg. Today, Jessica weighs a hefty 900 kg and eats about 90 kg of food a day. | 5 |
| 3 | 'Her favourite food is dog pellets and peanuts. She's also very fond of lettuce, sweet potatoes and mealies and we give her coffee twice a day. She plays in the river with my kids and the dogs whenever she can,' says Joubert. | 10 |
| 4 | When Jessica is hungry, she doesn't hesitate to use her massive mouth to turn door handles and enter the house. She then makes her way to the kitchen to get some food from Tonie's wife, Shirley. | 15 |
| 5 | Jessica can understand the Jouberts very well. They speak to her in Afrikaans and when Shirley says, ' Bek, bek ' ('Mouth, mouth'), Jessica opens her mouth wide for a handful of treats. | |
| 6 | The Jouberts' nine dogs are all Jessica's playmates. And when the Jouberts have to spend time away from home, they organise a babysitter for her. When they come back, Jessica gets very excited. It is common for her to walk over to their bedroom window in the mornings and make noises calling them to come out. She's no longer allowed to sleep inside the house because she climbs on beds and breaks them. | 20 |
| 7 | Jessica is so charming that BONA photographer, Jean Mortlock, couldn't stop herself from jumping into the river with her and giving her a big kiss. She was especially impressed when Jessica actually pulled her mouth into a smile for the camera. | 25 |

QUESTION 2

Read the passage below and answer the set questions.

1	As she sat in an overcrowded classroom writing her final matric exams in 1990, 20-year-old Buyiswa Tonono from Tsomo Village in Queenstown in the Eastern Cape had high hopes that the certificate she was going to receive would serve as a passport to a better life.
2	When the results were released, Buyiswa was overjoyed that she had made it! Her sight was set on going to university to study for her dream career – social work. Her uncle had promised to find her a bursary for her studies. She was devastated when she learned that he had not been able to get her a bursary.	5
3	Sitting in her kitchen, she saw the walls of their tiny home she shared with her parents and six siblings, crumbling down around her. A small voice inside said, 'This is the end. Without a bursary you're never going to achieve your dreams.'	10
4	Determined not to give up, Buyiswa decided to ignore this voice and packed her bags for Cape Town – in search of other possibilities.
5	Today, at 38 and a mother of two girls, a 20-year-old and a 23-year-old adopted niece, she runs Indlovu Project in Monwabisi Park which has a crèche, soup kitchen, vegetable garden, bed and breakfast, youth centre and a clinic, with nine people working full time.	15
6	'I am living my dream and have created employment for nine people. I now believe motivational speakers when they say things happen for a reason. Maybe if I had got that bursary and went to university, I would not have been able to touch so many people's lives in such a special way,' says Buyiswa.	20
7	But it wasn't sweet roses for her at first. Upon her arrival in the mother city, Buyiswa stayed with her father before finding her own shack in 1994. 'When I arrived at Endlovini Township, life was tough. I threw in the towel and let go of my dream of becoming a social worker. I worked in shops inviting people to go inside, became a painter in a construction company and became a domestic worker just to survive,' she remembers.	25
8	She only worked three days a week and during the two days she was at home, she noticed how children were suffering as their parents left them with just about anybody when they went off to work. After looking at this situation, she thought that that was her chance to be a social worker and actually do something to help those children and their parents. In 2004 she then invited unemployed women in the community to start a crèche and youth centre.	30
		35

9	Children and teenagers come in after school and the older ones help the younger ones with homework. They also play games and have a meal before they go home.
10	Buyiswa's advice to other women is, 'You can put a smile on people's faces by dedicating your life to helping them. Never be afraid to try.'	40
11	'I may not be a millionaire but every night after my prayers, I sleep peacefully and feeling very fulfilled as I know that I have done my part to make this world a better place,' says Buyiswa.

SECTION B: SUMMARYQUESTION 3

Your teacher has asked you to deliver a short talk to your classmates during the English oral period on how to take care of takkies.

Read the article below and summarise the MAIN POINTS for inclusion in your article.

INSTRUCTIONS

1. List SEVEN points in full sentences using approximately 70 words.
2. Number your sentences from 1 to 7.
3. Write only ONE point per line.
4. Use your OWN words as far as possible.
5. Indicate the total number of words you have used in brackets at the end of your summary.

NOTE: Marks will be deducted if you ignore these instructions.

HOW TO TAKE CARE OF YOUR TAKKIES

Takkies can keep their newness as long as you take good care of them. Takkies may be stored in your cupboard, on your bedroom floor, on a shoe rack or in the boxes that you bought them in. However, avoid stacking your takkies on top of each other as they may lose their shape. It is also a good idea to use the padding that came inside your new takkies to maintain their original shape.

Exposing your takkies to water too often can actually damage them; however, you may wipe your takkies with a damp cloth each time you have worn them. Pay attention to the bottom or soles of the takkies as these usually collect the most dirt. For a more thorough cleaning, you may use a special shoe cleaning product, or any soap mixed in water. It is also advisable to remove the laces to wash them and to clean the 'tongue' of the takkies.

Your takkies will smell fresher if you leave them outside to air and to dry in the sun. Wearing your takkies with socks helps absorb sweat, thereby leaving your feet and shoes relatively odourless. Cotton socks are preferable as they absorb better than other fabrics. Change your socks daily.

You can also prevent odour by sprinkling baby powder, or shoe powder that is specially formulated, to prevent bad smells from plaguing your takkies. By washing them regularly, you are also preventing them from having a constant bad smell that is considered unsociable.

THESE BEAUTIFUL GIRLS HAVE BIG DREAMS!
1	'I have travelled around Limpopo searching for these beautiful girls.' These were the words of Patty Kgobe, the owner of Batswala Advertising Media and Communications. Her company also publishes the Limpopo Eden newspaper and Labella magazine. Kgobe's latest drive is to uncover talent in Limpopo.
2	'I chose these beautiful girls to become professional models. Besides modelling, the girls will also participate in promotional events hosted by government departments and private companies,' Kgobe said.	5
3	She said her wish was to see the girls being successful in their careers as models. The models are aged between 18 and 21. Some of the girls were doing Grade 12 last year.	10
4	One of the models, Mbali Mbatha (19), said she enjoys modelling and it keeps her off the streets.
5	'We are happy because Patty is teaching us how to be successful in life. We want to showcase our beauty and be responsible about it. At the same time we want to make our families proud,' said Mbatha.	15

QUESTION 6: VOCABULARY AND LANGUAGE SKILLS

Read the passage below and answer the set questions.

TRUE SUPER FOODS – A+ FOR AVOCADOS

For years, we've steered away from tasty avocados because they're 'fattening' – but the good news is that they're jam-packed with healthy nutrients and happily, may even help you to slim down. Natural, unprocessed plant fats are essential to the body and avocados contain plenty of them – minus the cholesterol. You'll generally be healthier and lose weight more easily too. With all nine essential amino acids, calcium, iron, magnesium, vitamin C and a host of other vitamins and minerals, what's not to love? Swap bad fats such as hard margarines and fatty meat for avocado – you'll look and feel better in a flash.
