2018

MARKING GUIDELINES

MARKS: 80

These marking guidelines consist of 9 pages.
INSTRUCTIONS TO MARKERS

1. Candidates are required to answer ALL the questions.

2. This memorandum serves as a guide to markers. Some responses may require a marker's discretion, while others may be expanded at the national marking guideline discussion.

3. Candidates' responses should be assessed as objectively as possible.

MARKING THE COMPREHENSION

- Because the focus is on understanding, incorrect spelling and language errors in responses should not be penalised unless such errors change the meaning/understanding. (Errors must still be indicated.)

- If a candidate uses words from a language other than the one being examined, disregard those words, and if the answer still makes sense, do not penalise. However, if a word from another language is used in a text and required in an answer, this will be acceptable.

- For open-ended questions, no marks should be awarded for YES/NO or I AGREE/I DISAGREE. The reason/substantiation/motivation is what should be considered.

- When one-word answers are required and the candidate gives a whole sentence, mark correct provided that the correct word is underlined/highlighted.

- When two/three facts/points are required and a range is given, mark only the first two/three.

- Accept dialectical variations.

- For multiple-choice questions, accept BOTH the letter corresponding with the correct answer AND/OR the answer written out in full.
SECTION A: COMPREHENSION

QUESTION 1

1.1 1.1.1 A beautifully iced/vanilla flavoured cupcake.✓ (1)
     1.1.2 C/craving for sweet foods.✓ (1)

1.3 worldwide✓ (1)

1.4 The amount of sugar in factory-baked food is regulated/consistent ✓which makes the research more reliable.✓.

OR

The nutritional information of factory-baked foods is available on the packaging✓ which makes the research more reliable. ✓ (2)

OR

The nutritional information✓ of home-baked food is not that readily available which makes the research unreliable.✓

1.5 Diet drinks/artificially contain sweetened drinks✓ can cause mood disorders/lead to health problems/risk of depression is increased.✓ (2)

1.6 The 2015 study found that people, who consumed high amounts of added sugar, had a higher chance of suffering from depression✓ compared to those who consumed natural sugars.✓ (2)

1.7 1.7.1 The main cause/reason/source.✓ (1)
     1.7.2 Sweet foods can be as addictive as cocaine.✓ (1)
     1.7.3 Open-ended. Accept a suitable response, e.g.

Yes.
If the research will help to reduce mood disorders, then it is acceptable to use rats. Humans should not be subjected to these tests without experiments having been carried out first. Many breakthroughs in the past were possible because of experiments that had been carried out on animals.

OR

No.
Although rats are vermin, they should not be subjected to experiments. It is cruel to experiment on animals. /Rats are not the same as humans, therefore, the findings of such research may have different results when humans are involved.
NOTE: Do NOT award a mark for 'Yes' or 'No'. Accept other suitable responses. A candidate can score 1 or 2 marks for an answer that is not well-substantiated. Accept a combination answer.

(3)

1.8 Consuming sweet foods provides only a short-term relief. ✓ Thereafter, it worsens or aggravates the mood disorder and depression. ✓

(2)

1.9 To prove ✓ that sugar consumption can lead to mood disorders. ✓ / To persuade the readers to believe ✓ that the findings are reliable. ✓

(2)

1.10 Open-ended. Accept a suitable response, e.g.

The title is suitable because the article is based on reducing sugar intake as it leads to mood disorders. Sweet food is tempting; however, the intake should be reduced. 'Sweet' is associated with something good but too much sugar intake may cause health problems.

OR

The title is unsuitable because there is an uncertainty about the link between sugar intake and mood disorders. The title provided sounds conclusive while the article conveys the opposite.

NOTE: Accept other suitable responses. A candidate can score 1 or 2 marks for an answer that is not well-substantiated.

(3)

3.5.2 hyphen✓

3.6 By stating that this product has been on the market for over a 100 years.✓

3.7 Open-ended. Accept a suitable response, e.g.

The advertiser succeeds because the message of the advertisement is that the product is very close to being natural. The visual shows a can of whole kernel corn with the leaves/husk of a fresh corn. This conveys the message that the content of the can is as natural as the fresh cob.

OR

The advertiser does not succeed because the contents of the can would contain preservatives which are artificial/not natural. Canned products are processed and can never be as natural as a fresh cob.

NOTE: Accept other suitable responses. A candidate can score 1 mark for an answer that is not well-substantiated. Accept a combination answer.
